

Do you want to know how? – Improving patient centered care in oncology using benchmarking tools
Online event – INTENT CE 1047 Project

INVITATION TO FINAL CONFERENCE

December 14th 2020

Patient centered care ideology is especially important when caring for oncologic patients. However, how can a care provider know that their care is patient centered? How can they apply the patient centered care principles in their institutions or their field? The INTENT project (supported by Interreg CE EU cohesion policy program) has found the solutions and the tools to answer these questions. The project team has developed a model, recommendations and online tools to help the interested centers in establishment of patient centered care. Moreover, the project team developed recommendations for higher levels of healthcare management, such as policy makers.

We would like to invite you to a final conference with a presentation of our project's outputs and launching of a Virtual Know-How Center. The online event is aimed at general crowd dealing with healthcare in oncology. The event will be recorded for easily reporting.
